DAIRY NOTES.

A bill requiring initiation butter to be colored pink is pending in the Iowa legislature.

There is as much need of improving the quality of butter as to increase the quantity.

This price of butter is better in winter than the summer, and for that reason most of the cows should come fresh in the fall.

An Ohio dairyman has a dairy that pays him twenty-five hundred dollars annually for the cow feed from less than one hundred acres of clay land.

By testing the quality of the helper's milk you can tell whether to keep her in the dairy. If the quality is poor, discard her, for age does not improve the quality as it may the quantity.

Ex-overnor Hoard said at the Ohio agricultural convention that he wants to see the day when there shall be no more than one-half as many cows as there are in existence now and every cow twice as good. When there shall not be more than one-half the number of cows on the same farm and every cow twice as good. That will bring profit. He says he has a cow that gives 300 pounds of butter a year and he feeds her but little more than he would one that gives 150 pounds.

Cut Feed For Horses.

The practice of feeding horses largely on cut feed, hay or straw, molasses and mixed with corn and oats, has sound reason to back it. Not even the ruminant cow will digest whole grain without wasting a good deal of its nutriment. With the horse the waste is greater, because the horse does not bring up its food for remastication as the cow does. Feeding horses dry meal is very dangerous, as in the stomach it is pretty sure to become massed so that the gastric juices will not penetrate it, and fermentation results. Even though the animal recovers from the attack, it has not got much good from its food, and its digestion is permanently injured.

The mixture of meal with cut feed makes necessary for the horse to chew. This mixes the gastric juices through the food as it is swallowed, and the meal is fine enough so that all its nutriment can be used. There is no need for working horses quite so good as clover hay cut and mixed with corn and oats mixed together. The clover is much richer in strength-giving nutriment than is timothy, and makes good feed when ground corn is alone used for mixing with it. If the cut feed is of straw, use more ground oats with it, and also an admixture at each ration of a small amount of new clover seed meal. This is very strengthening and also slightly fattening, and helps to keep digestion good.—Am. Cultivator.

Plenty of Work in the Country.

Now that hard times are upon us, and so many are thrown out of employment, it would be well to recollect that the country is still covered with farms, many of them suffering to be worked, where the unemployed could earn a living. For years the young people have been leaving the farm and flocking to the cities for employment. While many farms lie wholly or partially neglected, many of them large enough for two or three. If so divided they would be far more profitable and yield more returns than the whole has done for years. When the cities are relieved of the excess of population and more farms are cultivated, the foundation for better times will be laid.

A life on the farm is the happiest imaginable, where one can breathe the pure air and see the fruit of his labors and almost all the necessities of life fresh from the vine or soil with only the care of raising, and all the more to be appreciated for their being raised with one's own hands.—N. E. Farmer.

One Solution.

"What are you doing to relieve the unemployed, Jack?"

"I ordered four suits of spring clothes this very day, three more than I needed, on purpose to provide them with work."

"But, Jack, you complain of poverty yourself. How can you pay for so many suits?"

"I can't, not this year anyhow; one thing at a time, you know. Believe the tailor sees other season."—Life.

THE GIRL'S REVOLT.

The Subject Considered From a

Matter of Fact Standpoint

By a Young Man.

He Takes An Ordinary View of Ordinary Things and Can't Understand the Trouble.

(Black and White)

I'm sure I don't know what the girls have got to revolt about. They seem to me to have a very good time, don't you know. My mother says there never was a day when daughters had had such a fine time over them as now. Why, they've got more liberty than they know what to do with as it is. I don't believe myself that these whining girls know what they want. Take my sister. She used to go to theaters and play at lawn tennis, and dance and sing and look out for a husband in a quiet, lady-like way, and have a splendid life generally. She got some amount of enjoyment out of existence and seemed to me to escape nearly all its horrors. Of course, every chap who's got to do it knows that the greatest horror in life is earning your living. Well, how many fellows have to? Yet they don't revolt. And the sensible girls who earn a living with typewriters and so on, they don't revolt either. Why? Because, in the first place, they are a jolly sight too wise, and in the second they are a jolly sight too busy. They haven't time to play the fool. I really believe that it's only lazy girls who revolt and it's only anything is always hateful don't you know. At least, in the sight of anybody who's got to work.

Well, my sister was the best sort of healthy, simple-hearted girl you could meet in a day's march. She was natural and took life as she found it and did good when it came in her way and saw no harm in obeying her parents or anything. Then, in a frightfully evil hour, she got hold of some yellow, oblong books full of rot about girls. These made her morbid and hysterical and averse to fresh air. She said that her eyes were being opened to the way women were generally sat on, don't you know, and finally she revolted. You never saw a nice girl change so quickly. She gave up lawn tennis first because none of the women in the oblong yellow books played games. They sat all day in corners fathoming the emotions of their innermost hearts. Well, if that's a healthy amusement for girls I don't know anything about them. And then my sister lost all her interest in doing her hair new ways and joined a movement. It was got up by a little, putty-faced woman of a man to gain his own ends, and he chartered a hall and lectured to the girls that belonged to the society and proved without difficulty that women were infinitely superior to men. The little woman had a good time, of course, because every girl in the room had only to look at him to feel her own tremendous superiority. One, however, a stupid woman with five hundred a year, got to love the man at last and married him. Then his object being gained, of course the little brute broke up the society and there was an end of it.

If a girl falls in love she generally shuts up revolving at once. It doesn't pay them. My sister was cured in that way and ultimately married a plain-sailing Johnny who knew nothing about the deeper emotions, but liked a woman to be soft and yielding and loving and understand accounts and all that. Mind you, I sympathize with clever women who yearn for the freedom to make life live. I know that millions of women have got greater brain power than I have and could simply tie me up in a knot and make me look like a fool at any moment if they took the trouble to do such an easy thing. I admire clever women awfully—at a distance. But still I don't see what they are grumbling about and screaming for. It's so undignified, don't you know. I once saw a game of cricket played between girls and men. It was called cricket, but the men all had to bowl left-handed and bat with broomsticks. Well, they would have to do the same in all concerns of life if there's to be that "equality" we hear about. There are certain things a man can do better than a woman, and he always will be able to, because he was invented to

One is to make money and board bills another is to take board views, and another is to see a joke. And many other things besides. But on the other hand, it seems to me there are a heap of jolly useful things girls can do a man can't. A sensible girl gets to know the value of small things you eat and drink, which is the secret of success in small lives. Such a girl goes into a kitchen and grubs about and gets hold of facts and solid information which will make the foundation of a happy home. Dull fool! That's what the revolting daughters call a woman like that. But let me tell them this: She's worth a thousand emotional hysterical unhealthy-minded girls who waste all their valuable time "yearning" instead of learning. Let girls sit up straight and read Mrs. Benton, instead of flopping about over modern fiction. It will pay in the end. When a man wants amusement he may enjoy your spicy girl who has the art of talking about as if she knew more about things in general than she generally does; and if he wants a wife, he looks round for a practical, sensible girl. But a man never looks round for one of the unsatisfied, discontented sort at any time. He hates them. He knows by instinct that they would depose him from his throne and make him take a back seat if they could. He likes women who are healthy in mind and body. Of course, the revolted don't want to marry, and all that. Well, you cannot alter society, and if they were not blind they would see that no girl is free until she's married.

But the revolt is only a storm in a teacup, after all, and the women who started it don't seem to me to be worthy of any serious consideration. "Latch-keys and more knowledge" is the battle-cry of these unfortunate young things. Of course, the girls who want latch-keys are just the sort who shouldn't have 'em, don't you know. I'll bet their fathers and mothers were quite right there. And as to knowledge—well, the sort they want any low-class harnaid could give them no doubt. Vulgar girls like that don't count.

I can not say I care much about girls myself, and I shan't marry for years and years yet, if I ever do. But I'm an awful ordinary chap, and I speak for thousands of other awfully ordinary chaps when I say that the sort of girls who marry and love and fight for are just women who flatter girls, whose fathers and mothers blame them all the time—just girls who have got religion and faith all that, and who don't know one end of a latch-key from the other; just girls who, if ever they have baby boys and girls will teach them to say prayers and all that old-fashioned sort of stuff.

Of course, its "up to date" to be miserable and friendless, and at war with your relations and neighbors; but a girl, or a man of anything, who goes out of the way to be miserable. So let those who want to revolt and make an uncomfortable home worse than it is, reflect a bit first, don't you know, and seriously ask themselves whether it's good enough before they kick over the traces and worry their gray-headed parents. Every dog has his day. The old people will die presently, and it's jolly wretched looking back and remembering you made it but for people who have died and gone. A latch-key's a little thing to upset a house, don't you know.

Feed of Great Importance.

You cannot feed fowls upon refuse and offal and keep them healthy, nor have good eggs. The favor of good eggs and their color depends very much upon the kind of food given.

When hens are fed largely on milk the yolk is lighter in color and the white has a milky look, while the whole egg is watery and less firm in texture than those laid by grain fed hens. From this it must not be argued that milk is not a good food for laying hens, but that they must not be given it too exclusively. To be sure, the buyer will not know this, and a purchase is made, but if they are trying to build up a private trade you will find that you must give attention to the appearance and quality of the inside of the egg as well as the shell.

Obstacles Thrown in the Path

of the Administration's

First Year.

Hill, Gorman, Brice & Co. and

and Attacks on Carlisle.

(Correspondence of the Courier-Journal.)

Washington, March 3.—To-day the Democratic Administration is one year old. It has contended with more difficulties than any since Lincoln's and enters upon its second year the object of about as much clamor as Lincoln's was, March 4, 1862; but after all Lincoln's Administration was measurably successful, and there is plenty of time for Mr. Cleveland's second Administration to be completely successful.

Perhaps the noblest act in history was that of the Romans, who sold the ground on which Hannibal camped after Cannae; the result, the complete, the most signal of even Hannibal's victories. We want some of that spirit in the Democratic party, and we want it right off. But there were no "Conservatives" among the "Conservative" fathers who honored Varro. Hannibal had no friends in the Roman Senate of that day, no partisans there. Unfortunately, there are some protection Democrats in the American Senate.

If the Democratic party is completely overwhelmed next fall it will be the work of David B. Hill, Arthur P. Gorman, Calvin S. Brice and James L. Pugh, who are bending all their energies and all their cunning to maintain McKinleyism on our tariff policy. Brice is the man Hill and Gorman put forward, mainly because, Brice has no Democratic character to lose. It is notorious that he flipped a penny with his law partner to determine which of the firm should be a Democrat and which a Republican. It is notorious that he is an inhabitant of New York, while posing in the United States Senate as a successor of William Allen and Allen G. Thurman. He is a package of flimsy and to the surface in the bubbling, boiling, troubling and lubricating—especially the lubricating—of coal oil in Ohio Democratic politics in Ohio. He would run the Democratic party as he would run a soap shop, and just now he proposes to put the Democratic party "in soak" for what the wool, coal, iron, glass, lumber and other tariff rings will advance, at a cent per cent rate.

Voorhees, Vest, Jones, and Mills were busy perfecting the Tariff Bill; they were making it, better than it was when it left the House of Representatives; but this did not suit the "Conservatives." Hill, Gorman, Brice and Company wanted "bearings"; they wanted the Democratic tariff made after the same pattern the McKinley tariff was made. They proposed to invite the robber barons to come up and write in all the taxes they wanted, and while they were conspiring against the Democratic party the White Lead Trust, on their invitation, implied, certainly, and express, probably, swarmed about the corridors with itching palms seeking to write their spite on these Democratic tariffs. It is just such a gentry as those who have brought discredit on the United States Senate. Conservative money, preservative, and Hill, Gorman, Brice and Company want to preserve McKinleyism. That is what they are after.

Brice objected to Vest, Mills and Jones, of Arkansas, as the tariff subcommittee because they did not come from manufacturing States. His real objection was because they were not under the domination of men who had grown rich by the taxes the Republican policy has permitted them to levy on the people. According to Brice, murderers ought to make the laws against murder, thieves ought to make the laws against larceny and rowdies ought to make the laws against breaches of the peace. Go among the crowd of Republican Congressmen in this town, and you will hear them say, in speaking of the Senate sub-committee:

"What do those fellows know about the tariff? Not one of them ever made a dollar in his life." There you have it in a nutshell. This is a rich man's Government, and a poor man, especially if he is a United States Senator, has no right to aid in the making

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and always feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curs, cures Diarrhea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency, Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. G. C. Osborn, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kneeland, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. Adams, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, you are free to confer that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

of a tax law, or suggest a reform in a tax law already made. And, indeed, when we look about the United States Senate, the numerous bought seats in that body, and its quorum of millionaires, it does seem like a plea of effrontery for a man as poorly off as this world's here as Roger Q. Mills to suggest a measure for consideration in that body.

If this is a rich man's Government in which a poor man has no rights except the right to contribute fifty per cent. of his wages to "protect" capitalists engaged in manufacturing, the sooner we know it the better. Nobody denies that that was the sort of Government we had when the Republicans had full control. But the Democratic Administration has repudiated such heresy and even earnest of its sincerity in placing at the head of the fiscal affairs of the people the ablest man and the greatest man in the whole country. And, by the way, the attack made on Mr. Carlisle by the civil service gentry would indicate that they are in the movement to make Mr. Carlisle the next President of the United States. Let them keep on with their kicking. It is time the civil-service reformers were doing their country some service, and the greatest possible service they could do it would be to put John G. Carlisle at the head of the Government. That is about what their attack on him will do.

The "Conservatives" in the Senate constitute the only obstacle to the triumph of Democratic principles. It is the duty of Voorhees, Vest, and Mills to throw them aside. Let them bring in a Democratic bill, and if Hill, Gorman, Brice and Company want to go into the Republican camp, why just let them go. The Democratic party has stood a thousand defeats, in the past, and will withstand a thousand in the future; but it could not withstand a surrender to these "conservatives."

It is stated that the "conservatives" have entered into a combination in which they solemnly pledge themselves that unless the particular industry of each is "protected" in the Tariff Bill they will vote against it in a body. Hill wants every thing in New York and New Jersey protected, and Hill's colleagues as a "Me Too." Gorman wants coal and iron ore protected because he railroads has those articles to the seaboard. Pugh wants lumber, coal, and iron ore protected because he is an old Whig—never was, never will be, and never can be, a Democrat. Smith wants pottery protected because his constituents make a good deal every year robbing other Senators' constituents by means of the Senate on pottery. The Louisiana Senators are willing that their constituents shall be robbed of $2 by means of a general protective tariff, if they were only permitted to rob others of $1 by means of the sugar tariff, and the sugar robbery is the only one in the whole schedule that can be justified. It would furnish about sixty millions a year with which to pay pensions and things. Camden is a coal man. Now there are the conservatives.

Lord Macclesfield tells us—in his first essay on Lord Chatham, I believe—of the Bedford. They had several seats in the House of Lords and a score or so of seats in the Commons. They were always for sale: but the Prime Minister, who bought them, had to take the whole lot. And so with our conservatives. They are for sale; but the Democratic Finance Committee must buy the whole lot, and their least price is McKinleyism.

Just let them get their ways. The House Democratic on the Tariff Bill. Not a doubt of that, and the House is not going to stand any more monkeying of the Hill-Gorman-Brice-Pugh order. Rather than submit to their insolence the House will close up shop and let tariff reform take care of itself for the present. Then an appeal will be taken to the country for tariff abolition, and tariff abolition would be a popular cry, too.

Old Democracy, despite the Hills, the Gormans, the Brices and the devil himself, is going to sell the land now occupied by Hannibal's army. Make your bids, gentlemen. The title is indefeasible and possession is assured.

SAVOYARD.

What a Gentleman May do.

He may throw a cab driver, if he can, but he mustn't ask twice for soap. He may kill a man in a duel, but he mustn't eat peas with his knife.

He must pay debts of honor, but he needn't trouble himself about his tailor bills.

He may ride a horse as a jockey, but he mustn't exert himself in the least to get his living.

He may be seen on the box of a tallyho, but he mustn't let his horse have his shoes polished.

He may dust another person's jacket with a club, but he mustn't dust his own with a whisk broom.

He must never forget what he owes himself as a gentleman, but he needn't mind what he owes as a gentleman to his shoemaker and his batter—Texas Shiftings.

Shoes on a Plow Horse.

In plowing, cultivation and many other farm operations a horse will walk from ten to twelve miles a day, and advance about four feet at a step. At each step the horse lifts half a pound extra on its feet, or 666 pounds in every mile. In a day's work of 15 miles the horse would lift 9990 pounds extra, or nearly five tons. If the force required to lift this five tons of iron could be expended in the work the horse is doing, much more could be accomplished. In the light of these facts is it any wonder that when young horses begin to wear shoes they soon become leg weary, have their step shortened and acquire a slow walking gait.—Western Agriculturist.

THE ADVOCATE.

The number of employees of the Maine and New Hampshire Granite Co has been reduced the past year, owing to hard times, from 300 to 103.

For all derangements of the throat and lungs, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the speediest and most reliable remedy. Even in the advanced stages of consumption, this wonderful preparation affords great relief, checks coughing, and induces sleep.

Spraying should be done in good time. Many practical experimenters advise an application before the buds open, especially in cases of apple scab fungus, grape disease, anthracnose of black cap raspberries, and perhaps black knot of plum.

Elderly people remember their spring blitters with a shudder. The present generation have much to be thankful for, not the least of their blessings being such a pleasant and thoroughly effective spring medicine as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is a health restorer and health-maintainer.

If you expect cows to give you their milk after they have scented it, use common sense when you are milking them. Have them in comfortable quarters, and free from annoying surroundings. Dogs may worry and children tease. If you think it is fun, the cow does not, and the shrinkage in the pail will be an emphatic way of telling you so.

An English sheep owner says that the best mutton in the world is produced by the use of a Southdown ram with a Merino ewe. The advantages of the Southdown as butcher's sheep are stated as finest quality of meat, small percentage of offal, lightness of bone and the certainty that these qualities will be transmitted in a great measure to the offspring.

To learn the actual value of strawberries, in the family, says Smith's Fruit Farmer, the farmer should set at least 1,000 plants for family supply. If these are well cultivated the family will have all they can use while ripening, and enough for canning for winter use. Every family of half a dozen or more should put up from 75 to 100 cans for winter use. Three quarts of ripe berries make two quarts cannel.

As spring approaches the desire will begin to manifest itself for some new breed of chickens and in this desire there lurks a danger, that the variety selected may not be the ones best suited to the climate and conditions. Unless one is very favorably situated, and has time and inclination to bestow the breeds kept should be those of known merit here at home. There are more dollars to be obtained from these than from others. The Brahmas, Leghorns, Wyandottes and Plymouth Rocks cover the list of most profitable varieties for the every day, working breeders.

The Delineator for April is the second of the Great Spring Numbers, and has many special features in addition to the usual fine display of attractive styles. Prominence is given to bicycling in an illustrated article which describes how to ride and what to wear, and also in a full page of figures in Bicycling Costume and an original piece of music entitled "The Cyclist's March." Mothers of families will be glad of the aid of the very suggestive paper on fitting out the family for Spring and Summer, and both Mothers and Daughters will be interested in the in the opening chapter of a series treating of the relationship between the two. Some new dishes are given under the head of Dainty Cookery, the paper on How to Live Wisely opens a subject that should commend itself to all housekeepers, and the chapter on The Etiquette of the Dinner Table treats of the most refined observances at the festive board. The contribution on The Use of Crepe and Tissue Papers gives further instruction and entertainment, and further entertainment is provided in an Easter Party and Literary Character. The latest literature is discussed in Among the Newest Books, and Flower Culture for the Month tells what work should be done in preparing the Garden for the Spring and Summer. The illustrated articles on Netting, Tatting, Knitting, Crocheting, etc., are as fascinating as usual to the lovers of fancy work. The subscription price of the Delineator is $1 a year, single copies, 15 cents. Published by The Butterick Publishing Co. (Limited), New York, and for sale by local agents and newsdealers.

The charter for the second class cities was passed by the Kentucky legislature, on Wednesday. The House concurred in all but 12 of the 113 amendments. These twelve were unimportant.

Since the Judge in the Pollard-Breckinridge case refused to allow the irrelevant depositions for Col. Breckinridge to be read before the jury he has changed base and now it goes out that he will plead that he promised to marry Miss Pollard through fear of death; Miss Pollard at the time having a drawn pistol. This is awful thin; Col. Breckinridge intimidated by a woman.

A special service entitled "The Suffering Savior," will be held at the Episcopal church on Good Friday evening at 7 p. m. The service will consist of readings from Scripture, Prayers, Hymns, Solo, narrating the trial and death of the Savior. The musical portion will be rendered by the vested choir, assisted by Miss Ollie Campbell. Strangers are cordially invited to be present.

An advertisement appeared in the Louisville Times last week of a German American widow, aged 31, with a view of capturing a true, loving husband, not to exceed 40 years of age. Her special charms was $1,000 a year income. There were many answers, but one was particularly handsome and said he knew that he would be a true, devoted husband as long as the income lasted.

Mr. C. C. Shubert and family, of Jeffersville, will leave on Thursday for Bates county Missouri, to make that county their future home. Mr. Shubert has rented his farm in this county to Andy Jones. We dislike to see such good people leave us. But cordially commend them to those among whom they go to live. If Mr. Shubert and family shall desire to come back to Kentucky they will always find warm friends here to welcome them.

A Mother's Story

Her Boy's Suffering After Diphtheria

Hood's Cures Good Health and Strength.

CLIFFORD MARLEY

"O. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass."

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has done so much for my boy that I wish to say a few words in praise of this wonderful medicine. Clifford was very ill with diphtheria and it left him suffering with Bright's disease. He was very weak, poor in flesh and could hardly walk. Mother's fever soon overtook him and together with trouble with his liver,

He was in much misery. At last, almost discouraged, I decided to have him try Hood's Sarsaparilla. He has taken only a few bottles, and yet it has done him more good than all the previous medical treatment and medicines combined. He has regained strength and flesh and looks quite healthy. It will always give us pleasure to tell others what a valuable medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla."—Mrs. G. W. MARLEY, Carrollton, Kentucky.

N. B. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to buy any other. Hood's Pills cure liver ills, jaundice, biliousness, sick headache and constipation, etc.

HORSE AND TRACK.

Snowden, 2:16½ by Strathmore will be in Geo. Starr's stable this season.
Clayton Howell has sold to D. S. Lockridge the bay gelding, Judge Savage, for $250.
This office is prepared to get out your horse cards this year in the very best style.

Abie Johnson, of Boston, has bought of Peter Evans & Son, of Lexington the gray mare, Elsie Wilkes, 2:24½ for $2000.

G. and C. P. Cecil, of Danville sold last week at Dallas, Texas, seventy head of trotters at an average of $215. Gambler by Gambetta Wilkes, was the highest priced animal of the sale bringing $1200.

The Leeds Importing Company, Adrian, Minn., has decided to ship a consignment of horses to England about the first of April. The lot will include Hampshire, 2:22½, and a number of colts by Lockheart, 2:13.

It seems that Mr. Hamlin has decided to start Fantasy in special exhibitions this year instead of in races, which is strangely in opposition to the policy he has so firmly advocated regarding race versus exhibition records.

The Ketchum Farm, Toledo, O., has received an order from a gentleman in Vienna, Austria, whose acquaintance its owner made when over there a year ago, for a well-bred horse with a low record. The order will be filled and the horse shipped in a few days.

John Splan recently said: "I think the prospect for a good racing season is very good this year. You hear a good many people talk about the low price of trotters, but I find it is only the inferior grades that are affected by the hard times; first-class horses are selling just as high as ever."

Louisville Tobacco Market.

Sales on our market for the week just closed, amount to 4077 hhd's, with receipts for the same period, 2333 hhd's. Sales on our market since January 1st, amount to 43,846 hhd's. Sales of the crop of 1893 on our market to this date amount 46,343 hhd's.

We have had another week of liberal offerings on our market and the tone of the market has been stronger for the medium grades of leaf, both of the colory and red kinds.

The following quotations fairly represent our market for burley tobacco. (1893 crop)

- Trash. (Dark damaged tobacco) $2.50 to $3.50.
- Common colory trash, $4.00 to $4.50.
- Medium to good colory trash, $5.00 to $7.50.
- Common lugs, not colory, $4.00 to $5.00.
- Common colory lugs, $6.50 to $7.50.
- Medium to good colory lugs, $7.50 to $9.00.
- Common to medium leaf $8.00 to $11.00.
- Medium to good leaf, $11.00 to $16.00.
- Good to fine leaf, $15 to $18.
- Select wrappery styles, $18 to $21.50.

Glover & Durkett.

The Republicans and Populists of Tennessee are already preparing for a combination, hoping to defeat the Democratic State ticket to be nominated next August. Gov. Turney is a candidate for the Democratic nomination, and the general impression is that he will again head the ticket.

The "Flying Virginian," the fast express on the C. & O., ran over Section Boss M. K. Campbell near Winchester on Tuesday night. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, Lexington, where he died next day.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

All the rest of the world doesn't devote as many acres to strawberries as does the United States.

It is reported from Deulson, Texas, that fruit is killed, and that the strawberry plants are all dead.

The prospects for apples in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, and other states is good. The outlook for a peach crop is somewhat gloomy.

At the sale of E. S. Wren, near July, Thursday, yearling cattle sold for $18; 2-year-olds for $28.50; milch cows for $15 to $30; and hogs at $4.55 per cwt.

James Hulet, of Jessamine county, bought the J. H. Bryan farm, located on the Richmond pike, near Lexington, for $93.05 per acre.—Danville Advocate.

Humphrey Hudson sold to M. J. Farris, 100 acres of land for $5,000, adjoining the farm he sold to Jno. Woods, on Fisher's Ford road in Lower Garard.—Danville Advocate.

The Sharpsburg World says: At the Robert Botts sale Saturday attendance was not very good. Corn sold at $1.40. A seventeen-year-old horse at $10; a three-year-old Alderney, at $2; one cow at $16.

John Ogg, resident of Whites Station, has a ewe which dropped an eight-legged lamb. There were four in natural position and four on its back. General Clay will have to run his Southdowns to surpass this.—Richmond Clinix.

Joel Foster sold for D. S. Lockridge & Co., of this place, to Major F. S. Lockward, of New York, a fine "New York saddle mare" for $500. The mare is a beauty and is a bargain at the price even in these times of depression in horse stock. Uncle Dud Lockridge calls her a "Jim Dandy," and to see her move one "would know Uncle Dud is right. Lockridge & Co., of this place, have in the stable several more elegant roadsters and saddlers as fine as split silk.

A number of mules ready for the Southern market were brought to town Thursday, but there was no sale for them. Some good ones were led home. There seems to be an overproduction of both mules and horses, and it is a question what farmers are to do with stock they cannot use to advantage. The sale for richly bred horses is equally low and discouraging. The Southern mule and horse market is glutted, and there being no local demand, there is a gloomy outlook for dealers.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis. was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward St. Alherd, Harrodsburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Calawab, Ohio, had very large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at W. S. Lloyd's drugstore.

- 4 DAN ROBERT PATTERSON MARK..... BY

KNIGHTHOOD

Is a big horse, 10½ hands high, good style, heavy mane and tail. He is also a horse of fine action, and is fast. He has shown his superiority over his tract repeatedly in his records. His breeding is excellent and his color is not only deep but without a tinge of bay. He is a 8-year-old colt by him trotted a mile at Indianapolis last October in 2:19½, and will be championed this season. We have a lot of 2-year-olds that are not only good looking, but show great speed. Two of them trotted quarters last fall in 48 and 47 seconds, and the others are sweet galloped. K. N. H. is the best all-purpose horse that has ever made a name in this country. In breeding to this horse you get something that sells for good money. If you get a fast one, you are all right, and if not, you will have a horse that will sell for $1000 as a road horse. This statement may be verified by calling at "Maple Hill" and seeing my colts and fillies, or by talking to John Parker, the producer of K. N. H. and sold them at long prices. Aberdeen is noted as a sire of game race horses. K. N. H.'s dam, Ophir, is a colt, being by a son of Almont and one of a mare by Alablah is the sire of Almont. His second dam, Queen Didd, is the dam of Red Wilkes, who has 29 in the list.

KNIGHTHOOD will make the season of 1894 at "Maple Hill Farm," and will serve there at $15 to insure a Live Colt.

Money due when colts come or mare parted with. If the season money is not paid in thirty days after the colt is foaled, $20 will be due and collected after that time.

The Forum

"The Greatest of all our Periodicals."

The foremost man of the world writes the literature of contemporary activity for THE FORUM.

Every great subject is taken up by The Forum when it actually comes into public attention and is treated by the best authorities, without regard to parties or creeds. It will keep any thoughtful reader informed on the tasks and problems of the time, as no other periodical does.

To many thoughtful people, the price of The Forum has hitherto been prohibitory; indeed all the great Reviews have been too high in price for the masses of intelligent readers. But now the number of readers of thoughtful literature—men and women who wish really to know what is going on in the world outside the narrow limits of particular sects and parties—is great enough in the United States to warrant a revolutionary reduction in price. The Forum discusses important subjects, but it is not dull. The literature of contemporary activity is, in fact, the most interesting of all literature. American citizenship implies that a man shall know the opinions of the foremost men and the latest great achievements in every direction of activity.

SIZE AND QUALITY UNCHANGED.

The Forum is now as cheap as the magazines of mere entertainment.
